

RSF Opel fan info. (old style vs. new style)

Replacement fans for older Opel's. If it is a model made prior to 1996 or so it would have the narrow width in the bottom. For a visual look under the firebox (behind lower louver) you will notice the firebox supports are only about 15" apart (newer models will have about 20" space). This would indicate that the current Opel fan will be too wide to fit there. And the only fan that we are currently aware of that will fit would be the PE-502451 Jakel fan. It is not an exact replacement but is the closest that has been found at this point (per RSF factory).
